

CultureBrokers FoodEase Service

Food is our common ground, a universal experience. ~James Beard

CultureBrokers FoodEase is a different type of catering service. We seamlessly connect our clients and their guests to memorable meals from local ethnic restaurants and chefs. We focus on supporting the smaller meetings and events, from 12 to 100 participants. This connection allows you to support your goals for each gathering on a case-by-case basis while saving you time, energy and worry.

When you work with CultureBrokers FoodEase, you contribute to your company's diversity, inclusion and community responsibility goals. Our service allows you to:

- Provide participants with multi-ethnic meals that also consider their sensitivities, preferences, and religious guidelines.
- Include diverse participants through an appreciation of their foods and cultures.
- Expose guests to new foods and the local businesses that create them.
- Educate participants on the fascinating relationship between a culture and its food.
- Support equitable purchasing and contribute to closing the socio-economic gaps in the Twin Cities.

Even planning small business meetings and events involves dozens of steps – from inviting the participants, booking the facility, and securing technical resources to creating presentations and taking meeting notes. You have enough to do. Let us take your catering tasks off your plate and experience these benefits:

- Save hours of time on research and coordination.
- Count on us while the meeting or event is going on, so you can focus on other responsibilities.
- Work within a budget with our three pricing options.
- Rely on our experienced meeting and event planners make sure things run smoothly, help you create an affordable budget, and make sure we meet your expectations.
- Leverage our established relationships with many different vendors.
